SIMON MAY ASK COUNCIL TO HEAR CHARGES

Understood That Health Commissioner's Attorneys Will Ask for Ruling as to Jurisdiction.

It is understood that Health Commisstoner Simon will endeavor to have the charges filed against him acted upon by the City Council, when his case comes up before Mayor Wells on July 7. His attorneys will, it is said, object to the Mayor being the judge on the grounds that the Mayor would be interested in causing the Commissioner's removal. Politicians believe that the only manner in which the hearing can be taken from in which the hearing can be taken from the Mayors jurisdiction would be by an action in equity to determine the jurisdiction. If the charges are taken before the Council it will be fall before they would be heard.

Secretary McConkey, who filed the charges, said yesteriny that in his opinion the Mayor should not be required to give the charges in discharging one of his appointees, for if he has the power to appoint he should also have power to remove.

The policeman was just stepping from the tracks to safety with Mrs. Herold in his arms when the car struck his legs and knocked him down. He fell over one of the rails. Mrs. Herold fell between them. The corner of the fender struck the policeman's shoulder and pushed him off the rail. While lying on the ground the policeman grasped Mrs. Herold's dress, but was unable to pull her out of the way.

The accident was witnessed by a score of persons, who ran to the rescue. Mrs. Herold was carried to the office of Doctor G. W. Keenig of No. 749 South Fourth street. The physician found that she had been cut on the forehend. Her shoulders were bruised and her dress was torn. Witnesses declare that she would have not escaped so lightly had not Patrolman Frank risked so much to save her.
